The International Federation for Peace and Sustainable Development (IFPSD) and its President Salwa (Sally) Kader marked the celebration of the World Humanitarian Day on Sunday, August 19.

IFPSD President Sally Kader reiterated the importance of this day to recognize and appreciate humanitarian aid workers providing aid to those in the most vulnerable conditions as well as to rally support for the millions of people affected by armed conflict around the world. IFPSD has held countless high-level conferences and programs to address human rights violations such as human trafficking, lack of access to health care and the destruction of cultural heritage in times of conflict. President Sally Kader added, "IFPSD strongly condemns human rights violations on all fronts and tenaciously promotes civilized dialogue and peaceful resolution to all disputes."

IFPSD, in consultative status with the United Nations Economic and Social Council (UN-ECOSOC), is associated with the UN Department of Public Information (UN-DPI) and the UN Department of Political Affairs (UNDPA) and is accredited with the UN Conference on Trade and Development (UNCTAD). It is represented across 5 continents and 17 countries.

Since its inception in 2001, IFPSD has tirelessly endeavored toward a more humanitarian future through regular educational programs, high-level dialogues and community outreach initiatives. IFPSD upholds the United Nation's commitment to international peace, security and justice with its six central pillars - Human Rights, Interfaith Dialogue, Cultural Heritage, Health & Well-being, Women and Girl Empowerment and Youth Leadership - as a part of its efforts to reach the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development.
